Re: Reducing the Risk/Increasing the Response Webinar Link
Date: December 10, 2014

On December 3, 2014, the Division of Disability and Rehabilitative Services (DDRS) hosted a one-day seminar titled “Reducing the Risk/Increasing the Response: Developing Strategies for Addressing the Sexual Abuse of Adults and Children with Intellectual Disabilities.”

Dr. Nora Baladerian, director of the Disability and Abuse Project and one of the nation’s foremost experts on sexual abuse of people with disabilities, led the seminar, which was recorded and is available at the following link: <http://webinar.isl.in.gov/p14eqwjtcga/>. Dr. Baladerian’s PowerPoint presentation is also available to download on the DDRS Announcements page.

DDRS is aware that there were issues with accessing the live webcast and would like to apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused those wishing to be part of the seminar. DDRS is also addressing these issues in order to provide better webinar experiences in the future.
